Resident Status Level System

The Status Level System at Youth-Reach Gulf Coast serves several purposes: 1) to provide incentive to improve one's self-discipline by providing a system where one can excel in physical, mental, and spiritual behavior; 2) to provide rewards for improved behavior, and 3) to provide a measure of one's progress as well as a feeling of accomplishment.

There are no guarantees of advancement in the Status Level System. Any decision pertaining to advancement will be solely and finally the responsibility of the staff of Youth-Reach Gulf Coast.

When a young person arrives at Youth-Reach Gulf Coast, they are placed at Level Zero where all residents, regardless of age, must begin. For the first two weeks the resident is placed on automatic probation. During this probation time, if the resident does not attempt to cooperate with the staff or habitually breaks the established rules, they will be dismissed from the facility. The resident will have few privileges or freedoms; all of which must be earned. After the initial two weeks the behavior, attitude and initiative will be reviewed by the staff of Youth-Reach and a decision will be made as to the resident's advancement. Residents must advance from Level Zero within two weeks or face automatic termination.

If a young person exhibits a genuine desire to improve and exhibits a cooperative attitude toward the staff, they may be advanced to Level One. This level has slightly increased freedom and responsibility.

When a resident has shown qualities of responsibility and self-discipline, has the needed eight merits, has memorized an assigned chapter of the Bible he may be, with staff approval, advanced to Level Two. This level will allow the resident a level of freedom and personal determination.

After eight merits needed at Level Two resident can then advance to Level Three. Level three can only be reached if the resident is clearly being a positive example in the home. Residents are held at a higher standard. There is some increase in freedoms and responsibilities.

After the needed 8 merits at Level Three a resident can earn the exceptional status of a "Resident Intern." A resident intern is rarely reached. It is for those that have displayed a recognized and consistent spiritual life. They must be exceptionally responsible with their personal duties and their public and private behavior must be above reproach.

The guidelines, limitations, privileges, and freedoms of all levels are described on the following five pages. Any misuse of freedoms afforded by these positions will be viewed as neglect of the trust given to the individual and will result in demerits; and if not addressed, a demoting process. Consistent abuse of the privileges given will be grounds for termination.

GENERAL GUIDELINES:

1. Your performance at daily chores is a major factor taken into consideration when you are due for merits and advancement. Perform assigned tasks quickly with the best of your abilities and with absolutely no complaints.
2. Keep personal objects and clothes picked up and placed in their assigned location.
3. Be cooperative and respectful with the staff and polite to volunteers and guests.
4. Pay close attention in church services, get involved and provide no distractions. Residents must sit in the front five rows. Exceptions will be at staff discretion.
5. Work hard to get along with your fellow residents and avoid confrontations and arguments. Do not involve yourself in disputes.
6. Take extreme care of our home, furniture, equipment, and our overall property. We are thankful for God's provision and we act like it.
7. Seek to learn self-discipline. Do the right thing without having to be told.
8. Never break the established rules. Set a high personal standard for your own behavior and character.
9. Take discipline and punishment with a healthy attitude; knowing it is making you a better person.
10. Learn to communicate. Talk problems out and follow the chain of command. Never pout or gossip about your feelings or problems.
11. Do not hide or help cover up another resident's misbehavior or rebellion. Expose problems or they will become yours also.
12. Open up vocally and emotionally to the staff. They are there to help, but they are not mind readers.
13. Respect the property of other residents. Stealing is not an option at Youth-Reach.
14. The music and television at Youth-Reach are monitored and controlled. Do not cross the line in this area.
15. Do not enter an area where you are not supposed to be.

LEVEL ZERO

Note: As the title of this level suggests, a resident entering Youth-Reach really has no level or status. Everything at Youth-Reach must be earned including your first level of responsibility and freedom. If you cannot accept this fact, you do not belong at Youth-Reach. The staff will encourage your advancement to Level One, but it really is all up to you, the resident.

Guidelines:

1. Level Zero residents have no phone privileges.
2. Level Zero residents are not permitted to have visitors.
3. Chores must be performed exactly as assigned.
4. You can leave the property only with a Youth-Reach staff member. There will be no passes issued to Level Zero residents.
5. Level Zero residents must advance in the level system or else be dismissed from Youth-Reach.
6. Level Zero residents will not hold an outside job.
7. Level Zero residents will never enter a restricted "Red Zone" residential area (i.e. Staff Members home). Enter other "Red Zones" only after permission is given.
8. Residents holding the Level Zero status cannot receive or send any mail. Any mail received will be held until Level 1 status.
9. Level Zero residents will have no personal food or cash money on the premises.
10. Level Zero residents will be in bed with lights out and mouths shut at 10:00 PM on weeknights and 10:30 PM on Friday and Saturday nights.
11. Zero residents must sit with a staff member in all church services.
12. Level Zero residents are loved and provided for, but the assessment of their performance will be strict.

LEVEL ONE

Note: The position of Level One is, in reality, the starting position for all residents of Youth-Reach Gulf Coast. With determination, and an excellent work ethic and with the needed 8 merits the resident can receive a promotion to Level Two. Doing Chores well and doing what is asked of you is the key to your advancement in Level One. If the resident does not get to Level two in 12 weeks of his start day he may be dismissed from the program.

Guidelines:

1. Level One resident's are not allowed to leave the property area without a Level Three, RI or staff member with them. Level One must obey this person and stay with them at all times.
2. Chores are to be performed daily as listed on the Daily Chore List. Incomplete chores will earn demerits and punishments.
3. There will be no slandering other residents because of their status.
4. Level One residents must exhibit a teachable spirit. Cooperation with the staff and other residents will be the chief concern when the staff considers advancement.
5. Do not cover for another resident. If you have knowledge of a misdeed and choose not to report it you will receive the same punishment as those that commit the act.
6. The only phone privilege is a once a week contact with parents or other approved personal. A staff member will dial the number and the residential phone line will be used. This phone call will last no more than 15 minutes.
7. Level One resident's are not to receive cash or food from parents or anyone else. Parents may buy something needed for resident only after permission is received from the Operations Coordinator.
8. Residents holding the Level One status cannot receive or send any mail, including email, except for correspondence with parents. A staff member must first read all mail.
9. Lights out and no talking at 10:30 PM on weeknights, 11:00 PM on Friday nights. The exception will be special events.
10. Level One residents will never enter a restricted "Red Zone" residential area. Enter other "Red Zones" only after permission is given

LEVEL TWO

Note: The position of Level Two is awarded when a resident shows a consistent desire to improve his self-worth and has the needed and merits. The status of Level Two holds no authority. There is an increase in freedom and privileges, but also an increase in responsibility. The abuse of this favored position will result in demerits and the return to the position of Level One or even dismissal in some severe cases. Memorizing a assigned chapter of the Bible is required to advance to Level Two.

Guidelines:

1. There will be no slandering or teasing other residents because of their status.
2. Level Two residents will be called on at times to assist staff as needed.
3. Lights-out time for Level Two is 11:00 PM. Weekends lights-out is 11:30 PM.
4. Level Two residents may use the phone (with staff permission) to approved individuals as long as this privilege is not abused. Individual approval is the discretion of the Operations Coordinator and staff.
5. Level Two residents are never allowed to make phone calls for other residents.
6. Level Two residents must perform all daily chores as listed.
7. Level Two residents may send and receive mail, however, a staff member must first read all mail.
8. Level Two residents must be a solid and positive influence on others in the home in order to advance. Demerits and a demotion will be dealt for improper behavior to the Level One or dismissal from Youth-Reach.
9. Level Two residents may enter "Red Zones" only after permission is given.
10. Level Two residents may receive day passes to stay with parents, but only if merited. All Youth-Reach Gulf Coast rules are to be adhered to while on pass. AN Overnight pass can be awarded to at a Level Two Merit 4 Resident with exceptional behavior.

LEVEL THREE

YOUTH-REACH

GULF COAST

Note: The position of Level Three is only reached after faithfully fulfilling the position of Level Two by completing 8 merits as well as completing all required reading, work assignments and memorization to advance to Level 3. There is a significant increase in responsibility and freedoms at Level 3. A Level Three is a representative, in this case, of Youth-Reach Gulf Coast. The promotion to this status will be weighed with more emphasis on the spiritual strength of the resident than the previous advancements. This level is not awarded without exceptional performance and has demonstrated a clear positive example in the home.

Guidelines:

1. All other chores will be performed as listed.
2. The Level Three position lights out time is 11:30 pm on weekdays and 12:00am on Weekends. They will be expected to police themselves in this area as long as they perform in a responsible manner. Wake up time will be the same as usual.
3. If a Level One wishes to leave the area for any unsupervised activity, a Level Three must be willing, within reason, to accompany him and stay with him at all times.
4. The Level Three resident can be awarded a part time job off campus as well as be awarded the use of a cell phone. Cell phone use will be monitored by staff. L3 must be in the program for at least 6 months prior to being awarded a part time job.
5. There will be no slandering or teasing other residents because of their status.
6. Level Three residents are placed in a role model position and have considerable influence on the conduct of Level One and Level Two residents as long as it is not abused. Level Three residents will never prescribe punishments.
7. Level Three Merit 4 and higher residents are expected to be a solid spiritual influence on all others in the home.
8. Level Three residents must be willing to familiarize themselves with the operation of Youth-Reach Gulf Coast to better perform office duties and participate at speaking engagements.
9. Level three residents can be awarded overnight passes.
10. Never enter a residential "Red Zone" without permission.

RESIDENT INTERN

Note: The position of Resident Intern (RI) is only reached after faithfully fulfilling the position of Level Three by completing the needed 8 merits as well as any required reading and work assignments. A Resident Intern is a representative, in this case, of Youth-Reach Gulf Coast and our Lord Jesus Christ. The Status of Resident Intern is only awarded to those who have proven that they no longer need the rules and guidelines to govern their behavior. As a resident Intern you have successfully graduated the Merit System. Also this status is only awarded to those that have surrendered fully to the Lord Jesus Christ. You are now seen as a spiritual leader and a leader in the home with some authority as of a staff member. This status should be prayed about before it is accepted. This level is not awarded without exceptional performance.

Guidelines:

1. No Chores are assigned to a resident intern. A Resident intern gives over sight to all chore checking in the home.
2. The Resident Intern position has no lights-out curfew. They must not carry on activity that will disturb other residents trying to sleep.
3. If a Level One wishes to leave the area for any unsupervised activity, a RI must be willing, within reason, to accompany him and stay with him at all times.
4. The RI will be held accountable for the actions of the Level One.
5. RI's are placed in a role model position and have considerable influence on the conduct of all other Residents. RI's will never prescribe punishments but can recommend them.
6. RI's are expected to be a solid spiritual influence on all others in the home.
7. RI's must be willing to familiarize themselves with the operation of Youth-Reach Gulf Coast to better perform office duties and participate at speaking engagements.
8. This position comes with authority and is only awarded with exceptional performance.
9. RI's will be given leadership responsibilities in the home such as handle overnight shifts as needed by the staff.

Merit/Demerit System

The Merit/Demerit System is designed to reward positive behavior and punish negative Actions. It works in tandem with the Youth-Reach Gulf Coast Status Level System and will enhance your chances for advancement as well as demote you by levels if you continue to disobey staff and disregard the established rules. If you, as a resident, comply with verbal instructions, show a positive attitude, and obey the prescribed rules, this point system will help you move to a higher level. If you disobey staff instructions, cause strife in the home, show no regard for the rules, or do not respond to a first warning you will receive demerits. When these demerits total four (3) at Level One, four (3) at Level Two or three (2) at Level Three, you will lose your present level (and even possibly be expelled). At the demoted level, you will only have two (2) possible demerits before being dropped to the next lower level. Demotion from Level One will result in expulsion from the program. The converse is also true. It takes eight (8) merits to be promoted to Level Two, then (8) merits to Level Three, then (8) merits to Resident Intern.

What is a merit? A merit is a reward point for recognized actions of a resident who shows a positive attitude, serves others and makes the home a more pleasant place to live. You can also earn merits with normal, consistently good behavior. Volunteering for extra jobs, helping staff, assisting another resident or helping to settle disputes can help you earn merits. Remaining open and honest to staff is the most important aspect to your growth at Youth Reach. These merits can help you to advance in the Status Level System or work off demerits given to you because of negative behavior.

What about Level Zero? Level Zero residents can only earn demerits. If two (2) demerits are earned in the two weeks spent at this level, the resident will be expelled.

How can you get demerits? Disobeying staff instructions; verbally disrespecting staff; constant complaining, arguing, or fighting; not obeying the written rules of Youth-Reach; or generally causing problems in the home will result in a demerit.

Will I be warned? It depends on the circumstances and the severity of the offense. Most times the staff will issue a warning, but this is not a guarantee. You are provided with a copy of the rules when you enter the program and you are expected to obey them.

Can I work off demerits? Yes. Everyone begins at start (zero) and can earn both merits and demerits. For example, if you start at 0 and get a demerit, you will be at negative one (-1). Then if you show a change or do something recognized by the staff as positive you can receive a merit and return to zero. If you continue this positive behavior you can receive merits totaling enough to be eligible for advancement to the next higher level. But remember you can receive demerits for negative behavior and lose valuable merits needed for advancement.
